Fourth Sunday of Easter, Year B, 25th April 2021. Bulletin No: 1358.

VOCATION SUNDAY

The fourth Sunday of Easter each year is known as 'Good Shepherd Sunday' or 'World Day of Prayer for Vocations'. On that Sunday, the Gospel is always taken from the beautiful tenth chapter of St. John's Gospel where Jesus identifies himself as the Good Shepherd who cares for his sheep, gathers them and lays down his life for them.

This year Pope Francis has given the Church a message to reflect on, where he links the vocation of every Christian to the unique vocation of St Joseph, patron of the Church.

A feature from the life of St Joseph is the part that dreams played in his life. As Francis reminds us from the Scriptures, 'Joseph's dreams led him into experiences he would never have imagined. The first of these upended his betrothal, but made him the father of the Messiah; the second caused him to flee to Egypt, but saved the life of his family. After the third, which foretold his return to his native land, a fourth dream made him change plans once again, bringing him to Nazareth, the place where Jesus would begin his preaching of the Kingdom of God. Amid all these upheavals, he found the courage to follow God's will'.

Another aspect of Joseph's vocation is service. He serves Mary and Jesus in God's name and he protects them. His life was dedicated to their concern and safety. For this reason, St Joseph is known as the protector of the Church and the protector of vocations. For everyone discerning a call to the priesthood, Joseph grounds the calling and desire in service. Priesthood is not about power or prestige. It is about humble service of God and his people. Such dedication requires sacrifice and commitment but comes with the reward of deep fulfilment. Like St Joseph, concern for others is a sign of a true vocation and a is testimony to a life touched by God.

On this Vocations Sunday may the whole Church affirm the vocations of priests and religious and may those he is calling to follow his path, respond to his call with generosity and trust.
