“To Love is to be Vulnerable”: A Talk by CS Lewis

CS Lewis was an intellectual giant of the 20th century. Coming late to Christianity, he became an enormously influential lay Anglican theologian. A renowned Christian apologist writer, using logic, philosophy, imagination and humour to support the tenets of his faith. The above words are from a rare BBC recording. ‘Agape’ is the final talk in a series of four on the different kinds of love. To hear this lively, challenging and engaging recording, visit www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B, 14th November, 2021. Bulletin No: 1387.

Saint Laurence O'Toole

Principal Paton of the Archdiocese of Dublin.

In 1162 Laurence became the first Irish-born Archbishop of the Danish city of Dublin. In those days, many of the people of Dublin didn't take their Christian religion very seriously. Laurence encouraged them to become real Christians. He brought monks to Dublin from France, and they lived at Christchurch Cathedral. They helped many people to come back to Mass, and to the Sacraments. Laurence himself never forgot his own days of poverty. He continued to care for the poor, especially homeless children. He made room for them in his own house, and they shared the food at his table.

Laurence was a man of prayer. He got up in the early hours to sing the office with the other monks in the cathedral and often stayed on afterwards, deep in prayer. Then he would walk for a while in the little graveyard, watching and praying over the city. When he had some free time, he loved to go to Glendalough and spend a few days in solitude in a lakeside hermitage which could be reached only by boat.

As Archbishop of Dublin, Laurence participated in the Third Lateran Council in Rome in 1179, with some of the other Irish bishops. The Pope, Alexander III, knew that Ireland had been going through a bad time. He entrusted to Laurence the task of reforming the Church in Ireland.

St Laurence O'Toole died in Eu, Normandy in 1180, His last thoughts were of his people in Dublin: "Alas, you poor, foolish people, what will you do now? Who will take care of you in your trouble? Who will help you?"

BISHOPS OF IRELAND LIVE FROM KNOCK SHRINE

The Covid-19 pandemic has been a particularly difficult time for those who have lost loved ones and have often had to cope with their grief without many of the usual spiritual and community supports.

To pastorally support everyone who has suffered the pain of bereavement during the pandemic, and in the context of the month of November as the traditional time when we remember our dead, on next Sunday, 14 November at 3.00pm, the Bishops of Ireland will undertake a pilgrimage to the International Eucharistic and Marian Shrine in Knock. The bishops will concelebrate Mass for all those who have died in our country during the pandemic, and for their families. At the Mass the bishops will also offer prayers of thanksgiving for all those who so selflessly sacrificed so much during the pandemic. This Mass will be live-streamed on www.knockshrine.ie and broadcast on the RTÉ News Now digital television channel and online.

The bishops invite everyone to join with them in prayer on this solemn occasion.
